Meet Kearrah

Who She Is

A 16-year-old high school student passionate about education, helping others, and building a meaningful future in healthcare. Responsible, compassionate, and always willing to step outside her comfort zone to grow.

Her Goal

Graduate high school, attend college, explore nursing and healthcare, and become an ultrasound technician.

Compassionate

Puts people first and approaches every interaction with empathy and care.

Responsible

Takes ownership of tasks and follows through with consistency and professionalism.

Focused

Stays focused on long-term objectives while taking meaningful steps every day.

My Strengths and Values

My values guide how I learn, work with others, and prepare for my future.

Goal-Oriented

Stays focused on clear objectives and works steadily toward meaningful outcomes.

Organized

Manages time and tasks effectively to stay on track and deliver quality results.

Helping Others

Finds purpose in supporting people and making a positive difference.

Compassionate

Approaches people and situations with empathy, patience, and genuine care.

Education

Values learning as a foundation for personal growth and professional success.

Teamwork

Thrives in collaborative environments and contributes positively to shared goals.

My Experience with Real Chill Marketing

Through Real Chill Marketing, Kearrah gained introductory experience in marketing, company research, and lead generation — learning how businesses identify opportunities and connect with potential partners.

Company Research

Researched different companies and reviewed their ratings to identify potential business opportunities.

Email Research

Located publicly available business email addresses to support outreach and communication efforts.

Task Organization

Stayed organized while completing multiple assignments and supporting the Americans Thrive social media project.

Business Ratings Review

Reviewed company ratings and analyzed publicly available information to support marketing decisions.

What I Learned: Careful research and attention to detail are important parts of professional marketing.

My Experience with Americans Thrive

Kearrah helped strengthen Americans Thrive's social media presence while building positive connections with her coworkers. She contributed to digital content creation, graphic design, and team communication — gaining real professional experience in a supportive environment.

→ Social Media Development

Supported the growth and development of social media platforms for the organization.

→ Graphic Design in Canva

Created visually engaging graphics to support digital content and brand messaging.

→ Team Collaboration

Communicated regularly with team members and contributed to shared projects.

📌 Key Takeaway: This experience helped me become more confident, creative, and comfortable working with a team.

A Project I Am Proud Of

FEATURED PROJECT

Building the Americans Thrive Social Media Platform

One of Kearrah's proudest accomplishments was helping build and strengthen Americans Thrive's social media presence. This project was especially meaningful because it pushed her to try something completely unfamiliar.

1 Created Digital Content

Designed graphics and posts using Canva to support the organization's online brand.

2 Worked With a Team

Collaborated with coworkers, communicated regularly, and contributed to shared goals.

3 Grew in Confidence

Completed professional assignments and discovered she could succeed outside her comfort zone.

"This project showed me that I can learn new skills and successfully complete something outside of my comfort zone."

How I Overcame a Challenge

CHALLENGE & GROWTH

The Challenge

Managing different responsibilities at the same time — research, social media assignments, communication, and team responsibilities all required attention simultaneously.

What I Learned

Good time management, planning, and organization make difficult responsibilities easier to manage.

01

Stay Organized

Used lists and clear priorities to keep track of every responsibility.

02

Set Aside Time

Blocked out dedicated time for each task to stay focused and avoid overlap.

03

One Task at a Time

Completed responsibilities one at a time rather than multitasking.

04

Ask for Support

Reached out to team members when needed and stayed open to guidance.

Beyond the Classroom

My activities outside of work and school continue to shape me into a dependable and caring person.

Volleyball

- Builds teamwork and communication
- Encourages discipline and commitment
- Strengthens focus under pressure

Caring for Children

- Demonstrates patience and responsibility
- Reflects compassion and trustworthiness
- Builds nurturing and leadership skills

Cooking & Helping at Home

- Shows independence and cooperation
- Develops attention to detail
- Demonstrates ability to follow instructions

My Future in Healthcare

After high school, Kearrah plans to attend college and pursue a career in healthcare — with a focus on nursing or diagnostic medical sonography. She is drawn to ultrasound technology because she wants to help pregnant women, support families, and make patients feel comfortable during important moments.

"I want colleges, employers, coworkers, and future patients to see me as compassionate, professional, dependable, and willing to learn. My goal is to continue developing my skills and prepare for a healthcare career where I can make a positive difference in the lives of others."
